Winning the Game of Fear

Friday, June 10 / 3:30 p.m. / Community Room

Whether it is the fear of public speaking, heights or being judged by others, all fear is inspired and promoted by the same delusional agent...the ego. ### Honor Your Priorities: An Alternative to (Elusive) Work-Life Balance

Thursday, June 30 / 4:00 p.m. / Community Room

Work-life balance can seem like an impossible goal and looks different for each of us. Instead of trying to achieve the out-of-reach idea of work-life balance, direct your focus on identifying and honoring your priorities. This interactive workshop from Camille McKinney will give participants a chance to define 'work-life balance' and how setting and honoring priorities might be a better idea; understand how priorities drive our choices and actions; outline personal priorities and how to honor them every day.
